How to Use InQuizitive Assignment

The screenshot shows the InQuizitive interface. At the top, there is a navigation bar with a back arrow, 'Digital Resources', the 'INQUIZITIVE' logo, the email 'iqstudent@wnorton.edu', and a settings gear icon. Below the navigation bar, there is a header for 'InQuizitive Formative Adaptive Quizzing' with a robot icon. The main content area features a table with the following columns: 'ACTIVITY TITLE', 'TIME SPENT (MM:SS)', 'SCORE', and 'GRADE'. The first row in the table is 'How To Use InQuizitive', which is highlighted with a red arrow pointing to the title. The other columns for this row show dashes ('-').

If this is your first time using InQuizitive, we highly recommend that you complete the How To Use InQuizitive assignment before beginning your coursework. Click on the title, How To Use InQuizitive, to launch the introduction assignment. The InQuizitive activity will open in a new tab in your browser. Your instructor may also require that you complete this assignment as part of your grade.

If you have not yet joined a Student Set, you will receive this notification.

The screenshot shows the 'How to Use InQuizitive' activity page. The page header includes the InQuizitive logo and the email 'mstudent21@mailinator.com'. The main heading is 'How to Use InQuizitive'. Below the heading, there is a paragraph: 'This is an InQuizitive activity that will teach you how to complete InQuizitive activities.' To the right of the text is a book cover for 'PSYCHOLOGICAL SCIENCE'. Below the text, there is a section titled 'Why use InQuizitive?' with a list of bullet points. A modal dialog box is overlaid on the page, containing the following text: 'If your instructor has given you a Student Set ID number, enter it here:'. Below this text is a text input field labeled 'Student Set ID:'. Underneath the input field, it says 'You need to join a Student Set for your instructor to see your grade.' and 'Need help? Contact W. W. Norton Customer Support'. At the bottom of the modal, there are two buttons: 'I don't have a Student Set ID at this time' and 'OK'.

Your instructor should provide you with a Student Set ID number. If you do not have one, click the I don't have a Student Set ID at this time button. You must join a Student Set for your instructor to be able to see your results. All of your work will be saved and will be transferred to whichever student set you join.

If you are accessing InQuizitive through an LMS (Blackboard, Canvas, D2L, Moodle, etc.), you may not receive this notification and you will not need to enter a Student Set ID if your instructor is using an LTI connection for reporting grades.

Activity Introduction

How to Use InQuizitive

This is an InQuizitive activity that will teach you how to complete InQuizitive activities.

Why use InQuizitive?

- InQuizitive helps you learn concepts and practice academic skills that will help you succeed in this course and beyond.

How does InQuizitive work?

- Answer questions and get feedback. You gain points for correct answers and lose points for incorrect answers.
- You can change the point value of a question (from 20 to 100 points) depending on how confident you are. Getting questions right at a high confidence level will speed up your progress through the activity.
- Not sure about the answer? InQuizitive includes ebook page numbers or other references to review the material.
- You can leave the activity at any time. Your progress is automatically saved.

How am I graded in InQuizitive?

- You must answer at least 10 questions to get credit for this activity.
- Your Target Score is 800 points. You'll receive a grade of 100% if you reach this point value before the due date.
- Most students answer more than the minimum number of questions to learn the material and earn the grade they want. Your grade is up to you!

1. Click on the gear icon in the upper right corner of the screen to view the activity tools.
2. This sentence defines the minimum number of questions you need to answer to complete this activity. After you answer the minimum number of questions, you will begin to receive a grade for the activity. You can answer as many questions as you'd like to receive your desired grade but you must answer the minimum number of questions to submit the activity to your instructor and receive a grade.
3. This sentence defines the Target Score for this activity. If you reach the Target Score, your grade will be 100%. You can answer as many questions as you'd like to reach the Target Score.
4. Click the Show InQuizitive Quickstart Video button to view the InQuizitive Quickstart Video.
5. Click the Start Answering Questions button to begin the assignment.

Questions

How to Use InQuizitive

1. Points, Grades, and Levels

Drag the labels below to fill in the blanks.

(Hint: You saw most of this information on the introductory screen when you first started the activity. To view that screen again, click the gear icon in the top right-hand corner and select "Instructor Activity Introduction" from the drop-down menu.)

- You score points in InQuizitive by answering .
- You determine how many points you can gain or lose on each question using the Question slider (to the right if you're on a computer, or at the bottom for smartphone users).
- You must answer a number of questions to get a grade on the activity.
- To get a perfect grade (100%) on the activity, you must reach a designated Score.

1. Gear icon in the top right corner.

2. Question Confidence slider showing "I think I know it" and a note: "You can gain or lose up to 60 points on this question."

3. Activity Score box showing "0" and a "(View Activity Report)" link.

6. A text box containing a blank space for a score.

maximum ⁺ minimum ⁺ questions ⁺ confidence ⁺ target ⁺

- Click on the gear icon in the upper right corner of the screen to view the activity tools.
- This is the confidence slider. Depending on your confidence in answering the question, you can make the question worth between 20 and 100 points. If you answer the question correctly, you'll gain that number of points. However, if you answer incorrectly, you will lose those points. You can regain half of the points you lost by answering the question correctly on your second attempt (some types of questions also allow for "second chance points" on third, fourth, or fifth attempts).
- Your Activity Score is displayed in this box. As you answer each question, the line graph will be plotted with your progress. There are three different levels in each activity, represented by the three horizontal lines in the graph. Click on the Activity Score box to go to the Activity Report for this activity.
- This is your Current Grade. Underneath your grade, you will see how many questions you still need to answer to receive a grade for the assignment. After reaching the minimum number of questions, you can continue answering questions until you receive your desired grade.
- If you have trouble answering the question or you believe you found a question that is unfair or incorrect, click on the Question Help/Challenge button. You can challenge up to 3 questions in each assignment. You will get back any points you lost when attempting to answer the question. Question challenges are reported back to Norton editors, who can quickly correct the question if there really is a problem with it.
- There are several different types of questions presented in InQuizitive. Follow the directions to answer each question. You cannot move on to the next question until you answer each question completely.

Correct Answer

When you answer a question correctly, you will receive the message below.

1. You will receive feedback for each question you answer.
2. The number of points you earned answering the question correctly will be displayed in the header.
3. Click on the Next Question button to proceed to the next question in the assignment.
4. Click on the Close Feedback button to close this window and return to the question for review.

You seem to know this content better than you think you do!

To gain more points and reach the Target Score faster, increase your confidence level when you're sure you know the answer, and decrease your confidence level when you're not sure.

OK

If your Confidence Slider is not up to the max setting and you get several questions in a row correct, this message may appear asking you to consider increasing your confidence level when you think you know the answer.

Your hard work is paying off! You've answered 5 questions in a row correctly, and you've earned a bonus of 75 points. Keep it up!

OK

If you correctly answer 5 questions in a row, you will earn a bonus equal to 5% of the Target Score (e.g., if the Target Score is 1,500, the hot-streak bonus will be 75 points).

Incorrect Answer

If you answer any part of a question incorrectly, you will receive the message below. Click on the Try Again button to return to the question for another attempt. There is no "I give up" or "Show me the answer" button in InQuizitive. You must answer each question completely before moving on to the next question. You can regain half of the points you lost by answering the question correctly on your second attempt (some types of questions also allow for "second chance points" on third, fourth, or fifth attempts).

No, that's not right. You lost 60 points.

You can get 30 points back by answering the question correctly now.

Introspectors were meticulously trained to simply report on their experiences, with minimum interpretation.

You must find and choose the correct answer to complete the question. Keep trying until you get the question correct.

Page(s) 8-11 Try Again

1. The number of points you lost by answering the question incorrectly will be displayed in the header.
2. You will receive feedback for each question you answer.
3. Click on the Try Again button to return to the question and make another attempt at answering the question correctly.

You've gotten the last 2 questions wrong and lost some points. But don't worry, you can gain them back!

To reach the Target Score faster, decrease your confidence level when you're not sure you know the answer, and increase your confidence level when you are confident.

Study tip: When you're not sure, review the material before you answer. Most students find it helpful to keep their book or ebook handy as they work in InQuizitive.

OK

If your Confidence Slider is not at the minimum level and you answer several questions incorrectly in a row, this message may appear asking you to consider lowering your Confidence Slider setting to a lower level.

If you incorrectly answer 5 questions in a row, the message below may appear.

1. If you have access to the ebook, click on this button to open the ebook to the section covered in this assignment.
2. Click the View Report button to view your activity report so you can see which learning objectives are giving you trouble.
3. Click the Back to Questions button to return to answering questions.

Levels

How to Use InQuizitive

You've made it to Level 2!

In this level, you'll get harder questions when you're doing well, and easier questions when you're not.

Your score cannot go down below the Level 2 threshold (267 points).

Study tip: Before you continue, this might be a good time to take a short break and clear your head. Studies show that spacing out your learning can help you remember information. Your work in InQuizitive is always saved automatically.

How to Use InQuizitive

You've made it to Level 3!

In this level, you'll be asked more questions about topics that you seem to need more help with.

Your score cannot go down below the Level 3 threshold (533 points).

Study tip: Before you continue, this might be a good time to take a short break and clear your head. Studies show that spacing out your learning can help you remember information. Your work in InQuizitive is always saved automatically.

View ReportTake a BreakBack to Questions

You will receive each message above after clearing the thresholds for level 2 and level 3. After you reach the next level, your point total can never fall below the point total threshold needed to reach that level. For example, if it takes 500 points to reach level 2, once you reach level 2, your point total will never fall below 500 points. Click on the View Report button to view the activity report for this assignment. Click the "Take a Break" button to take a break from answering questions. Click the Back to Questions button to return to answering questions.

If you haven't reached level 2 after answering 3/4 of the minimum number of questions, while also spending an amount of time on each question that is at least 75% of the class average, InQuizitive will give you a "bonus question" that, when answered correctly, will immediately bump you up to level 2. Similarly, if you haven't reached level 3 after twice the minimum number of questions have been answered, you will receive a bonus question that will bump you up to level 3.

Bonus Question!

Your next question will be one that you answered earlier. Answer the question now with no incorrect guesses to earn 127 points and move on to Level 2.

You cannot lose any points on this bonus question, but it does not count as one of the minimum questions you have to answer to complete the activity.

Grading

How to Use InQuizitive

Nice Work!

You've answered the minimum number of questions (10) to complete the activity.

Your current grade is 48% because you gained 387 points and the Target Score is 800 points.

But don't stop now! Get all the way up to 100% by answering more questions and accumulating more points. Your grade won't go down from here. It will only improve.

Study tip: Go beyond the minimum. Keep working until you earn the grade you're happy with.
